COVINGTON COUNCILMAN-AT-LARGE LARRY ROLLING TO RUN FOR RE-ELECTION IN MARCH 2023

Covington, LA - Covington City Councilman-at-Large Larry Rolling announced Monday that he will be seeking re-election as Councilman-at-Large on the Covington City Council in the March 2023 election.

Rolling, current Councilman-at-Large President, will continue to bring his passion, expertise, knowledge and experience to the new council that will take office in July 2023.

"In the last three and a half years as current Councilman-at-Large, Council President, and former two term Representative for District D, I have been able to establish effective relationships with city, parish, and state governments, laying a solid foundation for future endeavors such as infrastructure, economic development, and bridging the gap between local businesses and government to our city."

Rolling has served on many committees during his council tenure, including Chairman of the Economic Development Committee, Public Works/Public Safety Committee, Finance Committee, and Advisory Board Member of the St. Tammany Parish Community Action Agency. And, in 2012, Rolling created the Covington Business Workshop series that focused on bringing and keeping businesses in the city.

Rolling also currently serves on the James Samaritan Board, as Carnival in Covington Parade President, and Kelly Kicking Cancer Board Member and Gala Chairman. In addition, he is a Leadership St. Tammany Graduate who recently joined the organization's Alumni Board.

Leadership St. Tammany is committed to the developing leaders who are committed to our community. Lastly, Larry earned the Alliance for Good Government St. Tammany Parish Legislator of the Year in 2019.

As a former small business owner in the City of Covington for 18 years, he understands how the changes in today's economy create new challenges, needs, and opportunities for business owners. Most businesses in the city are small and locally owned. They provide services and unique shopping experiences to residents and visitors alike. "As we know, any business in our community is the heartbeat of our city," says Rolling.

But, business needs are not his only priority. Rolling has answered residents' requests and has been proactive with his open-door policy which has allowed him to discuss issues like drainage, traffic congestion, street issues, and zoning with his constituents and answer their questions. "I feel great about what has been accomplished and the direction our city is heading. I look forward to our future," said Rolling. "Since 2011 when I first took office, I am proud to say that our council and administration have worked well together being respectful and putting our citizens first," Rolling added. "Most of all, I still have more to give back and contribute to the community that I love. I feel I am an ambassador for the city in everything that I do. I truly thank everyone for letting me serve this great city as their Councilman-at-Large."

Rolling currently is Director of Marketing at Action Screen Printing and Promotions based in Covington. He resides in Covington and is a 44-year Saints season ticket holder and is known locally as the Saints Sign Man.

Rolling, who has served as Councilman-at-Large for the past three and a half years and District D Councilman for eight years, will be seeking reelection for one of the Council-at-Large seats in March 2023 election. Early voting is March 11, 2023, through March 18, 2023.
